P.S.
HAPPY NEW YEAR!
Don't hustle too many girls.

HOW CAN I BE ME?

What is life? How do we live it? As an individual, each person has to decide for himself how he is going to live his life, for it is his and his alone.

Each person has guidelines by which to follow, but these are like traveling a road with many branches—there are many paths to decide from. As he travels the road of life, he must decide whether to travel the trodden path to conformity or the rugged path to individuality.

Although each person has to decide which paths to take, there are numerous signs along the way that help to guide him to the destinations that he wishes to reach. The road of life sometimes seems like traveling a circle, which gains nothing, but the road is very rewarding for those who take advantage of it.

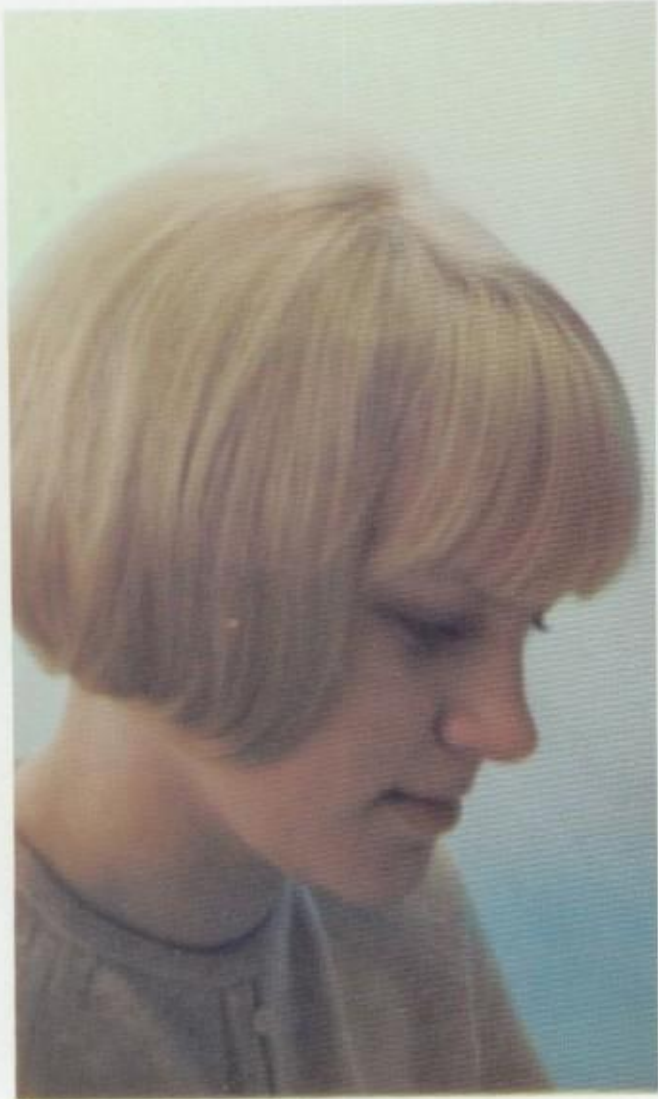

Although most restrictions in our lives are passed as contemporary laws, many restraints are passed on to us from other generations and set standards. Some of these mores and customs have to do with the enforcement of rules that protect society as a whole from ourselves. Others have to do with morals and censorship, which as minors we do not have any say about. The only voice that is heard from our generation is that of rebellion to these ideas. Only through acceptance of these rules will new ideas and limits more acceptable to our generation be created.

MORES AND CUSTOMS SET STANDARDS

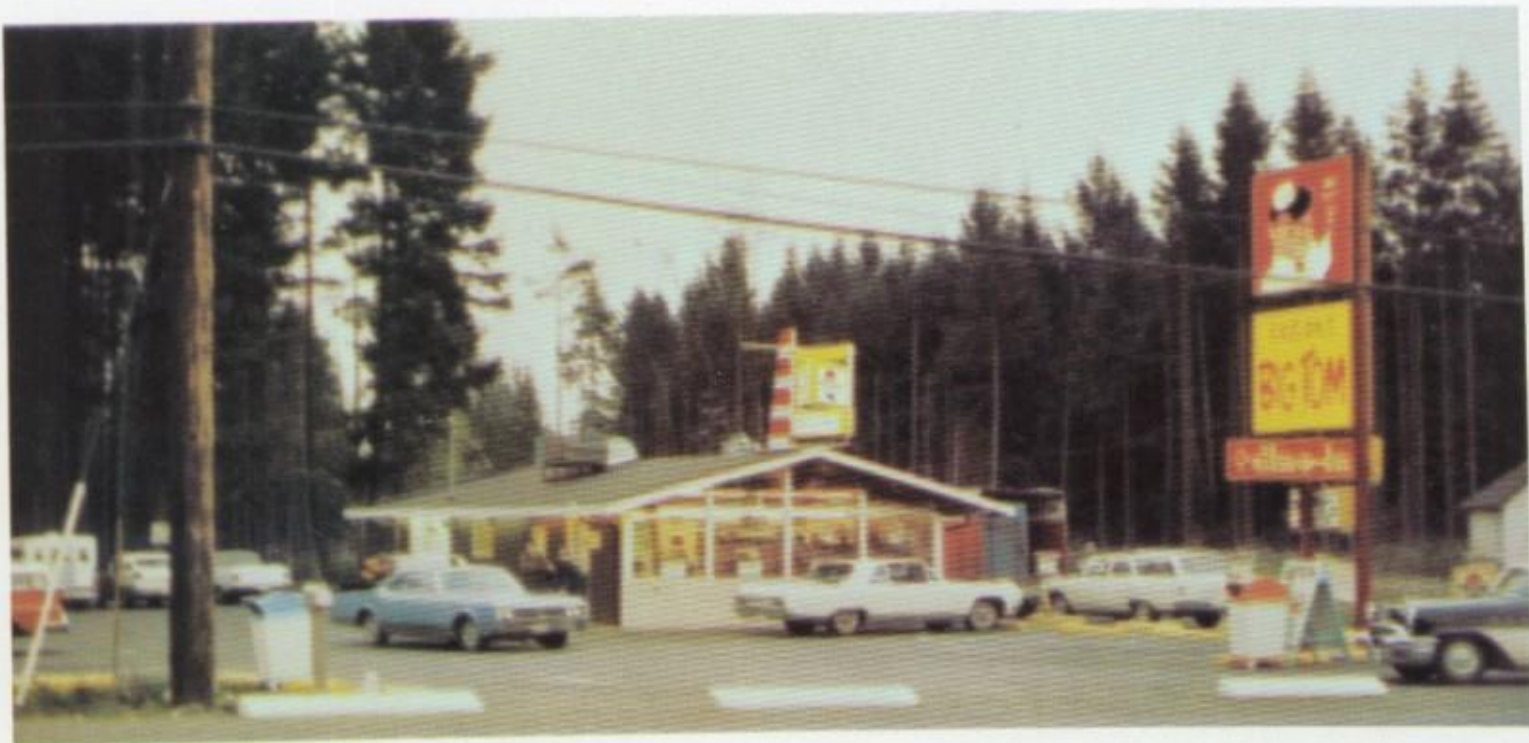

LIVING BY ONES OWN

Each person has the right to live his own life and follow his own standards. In this community he has the chance to follow one of the many different moral and living standards that are displayed.

High school is the turning point in most peoples lives, for it is here that one must decide what his future plans and standards are going to be. Within the school his own classmates present to him a contrast of living from which to choose.

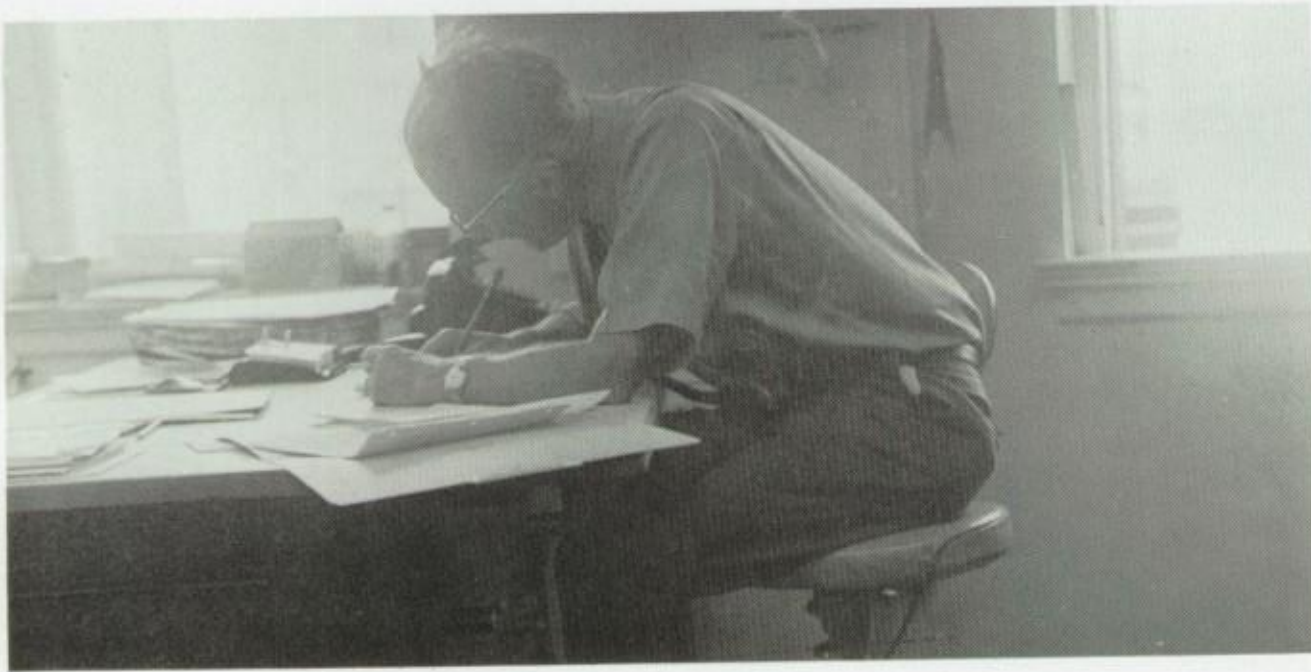

This decision is of great importance because it will most likely decide this persons standards for the rest of his life, but it is this persons decision alone.

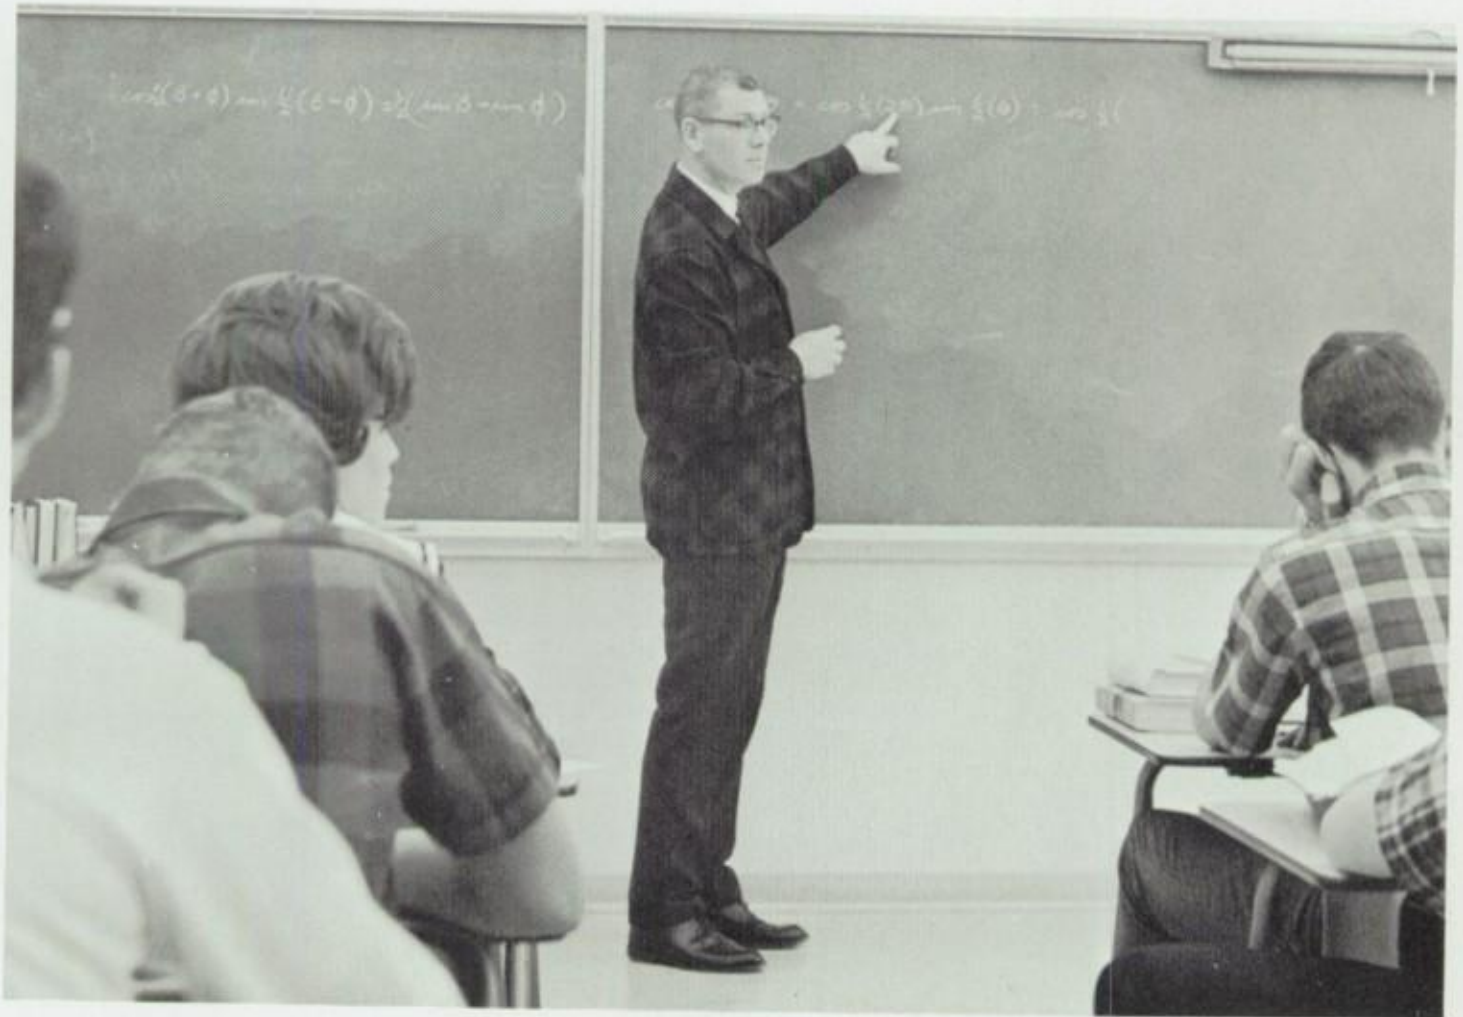

STANDARDS PROVIDES A CONTRAST

ONLY ONE LIFE TO LIVE

We are only born once, and we die only once. What comes in between is up to that individual. Each person's outlook on what he should accomplish decides for that individual the paths of life to follow, whether or not that person accomplishes his goals depends upon his personality, desire, and opportunity.

One does not have to be wealthy or famous to satisfy his goals. He can be rich in other areas, such as in friends or in service to others. Most people don't achieve their goals, but find a medium in which they survive.

Each person has the right to live his own life and follow his own standards. In this community he has the chance to follow one of the many different moral and living standards that are displayed.

High school is the turning point in most peoples lives, for it is here that one must decide what his future plans and standards are going to be. Within the school his own classmates present to him a contrast of living from which to choose.

This decision is of great importance because it will most likely decide this persons standards for the rest of his life, but it is this persons decision alone.

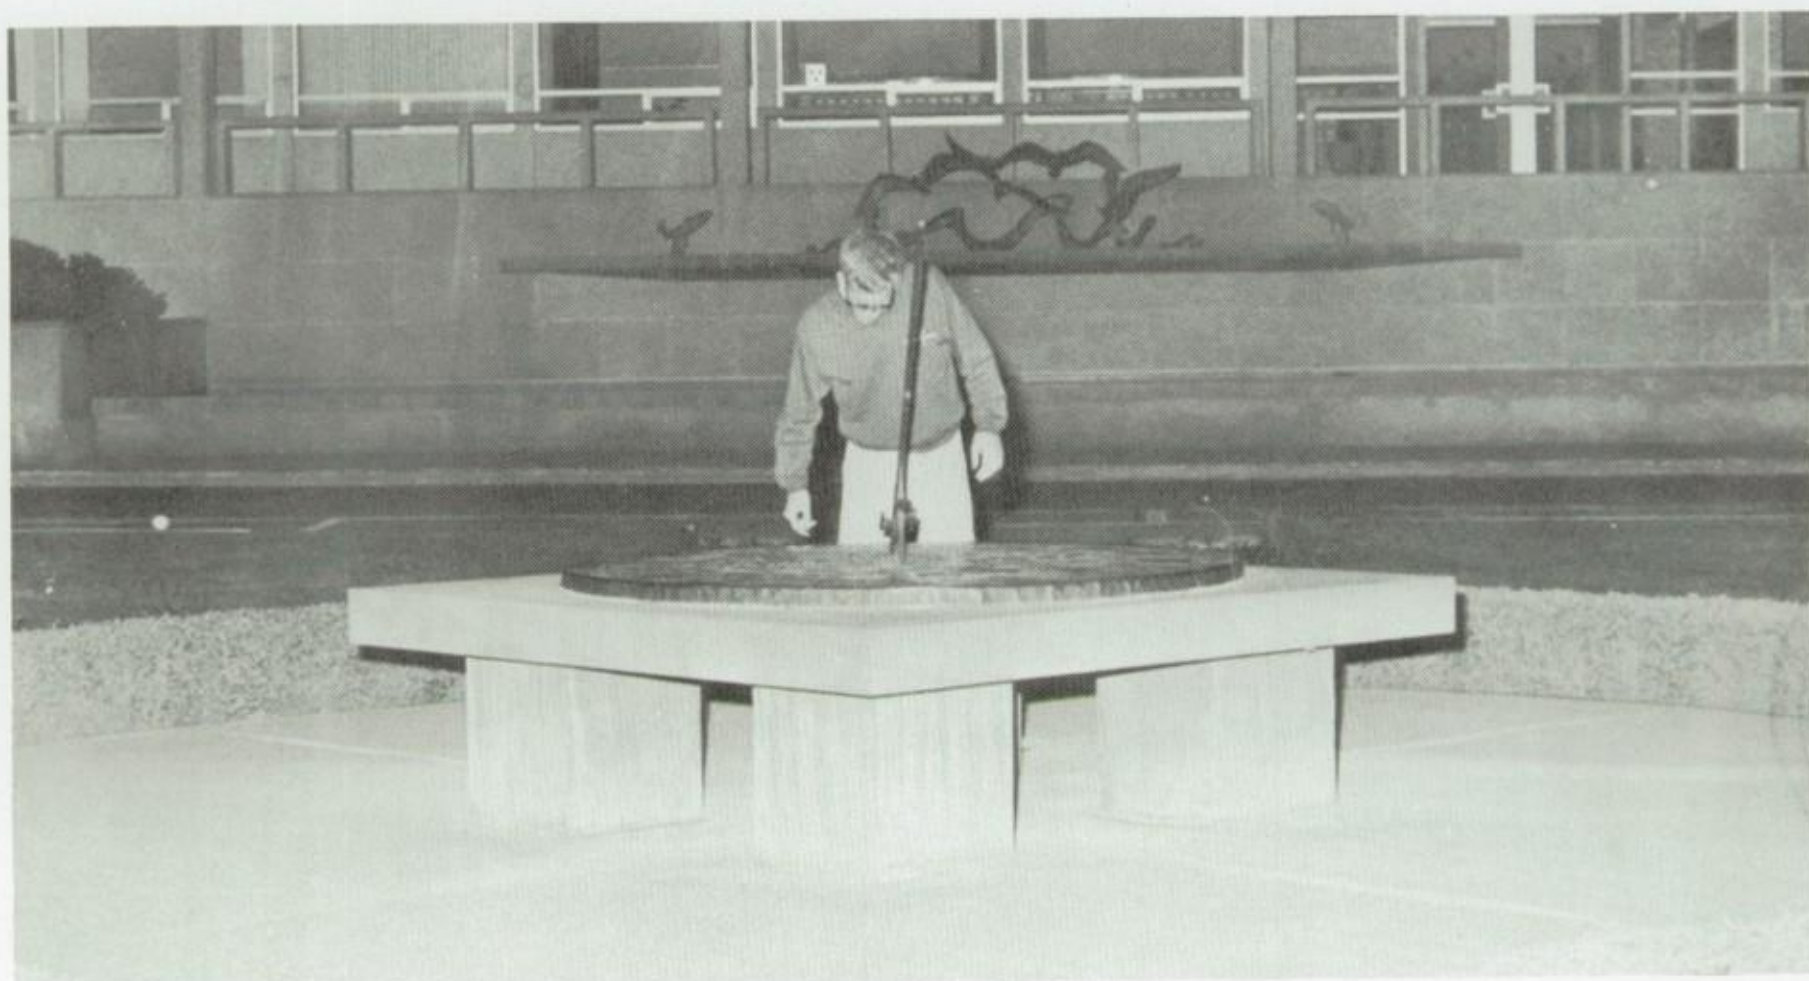

SCHOOL PROVIDES A BEGINNING

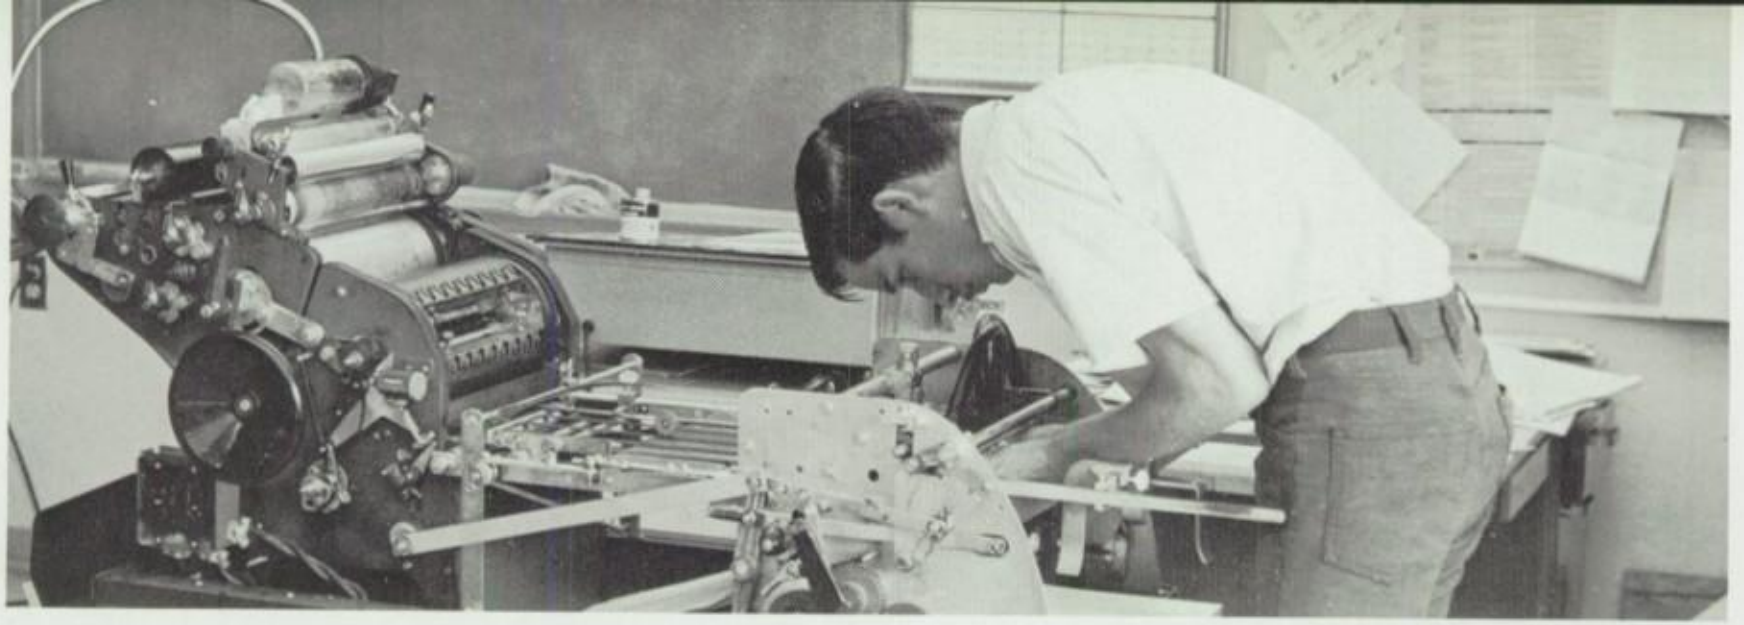

The true individual of this era is one that achieves recognition and acceptance for new ideas that benefit society. In our school those who excel to become standouts in their field have gained this goal.

Does individuality in this age mean nonconformity? One does not have to be different from the rest of our generation to be thought of as an individualist. True, those who do look or act unorthodox have their recognition as being different, but most are not accepted by society.

After the students filter out of the classroom they tend to forget about the teacher that they left behind, because teachers are adults they do not usually associate with. The teacher that we dedicate this years annual to is an adult in his own realm, but to the students he is one of them. His insight of youth and their ways has helped him to develop an understanding between him and his students. Unselfishly, he gives up time during and after school to help students furthur their knowledge in many fields of study.

It is in gratitude of being more than just a teacher that we dedicate this annual to you Mr. Russell.

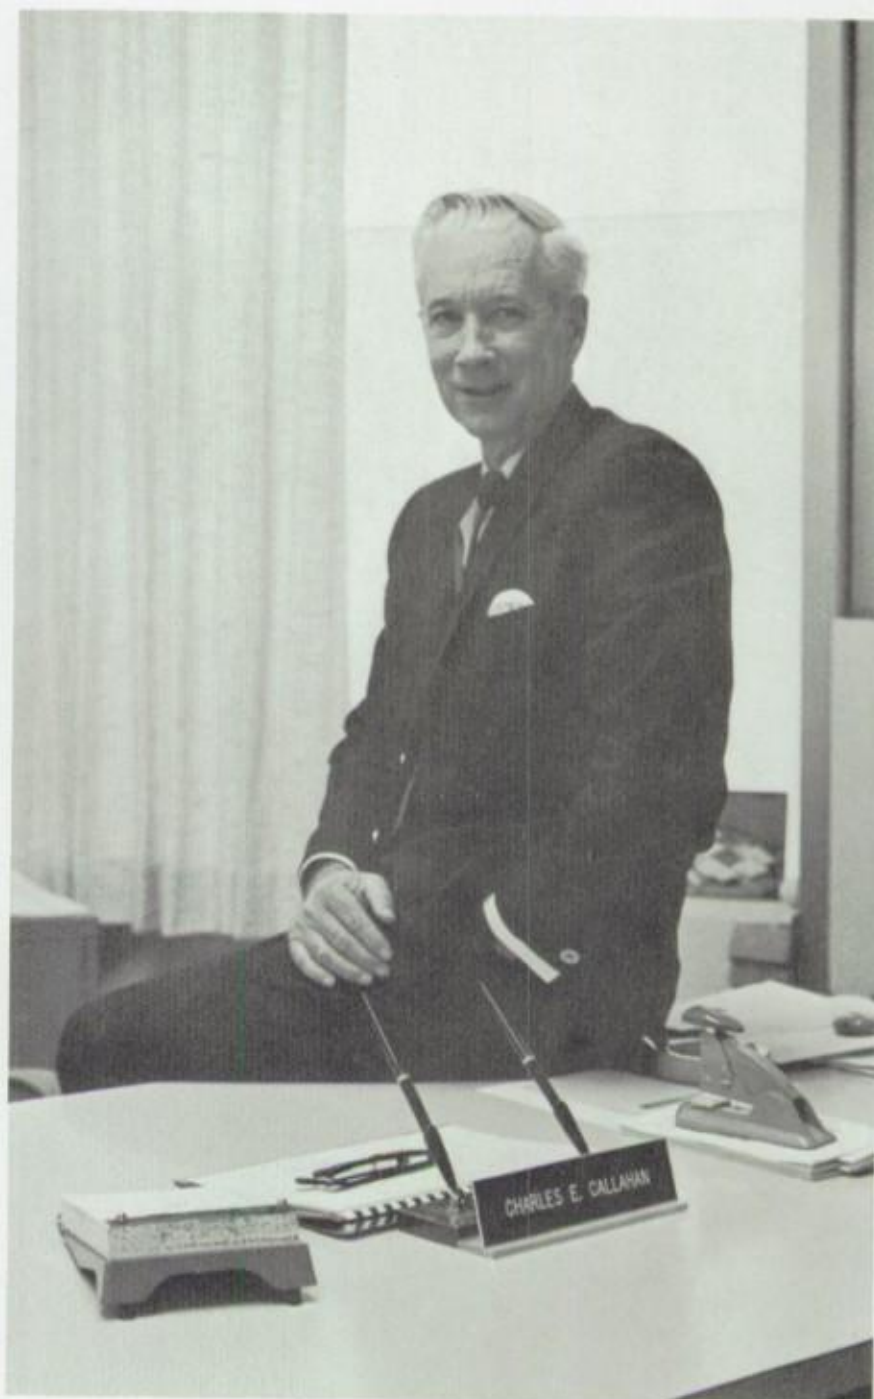

Whether smiling or in a serious pose, these are two faces that were well known by the students of North Thurston. They belong to Mr. Bower, the principal, and Mr. Getchman, the assistant principal. Their guidance and advice helped many students throughout the year and they will be remembered long after graduation.

Seated: Mr. Charles E. Callahan, Superintendent of North Thurston School District, using his twenty-nine years in education, guided the school district through growing pains suffered by all educational systems with rapidly expanding enrollments. This year the district completed a new junior high, "Nisqually," initiated plans to expand the high school, remodel the old Lacey School into administrative offices and start a new elementary school.

Taxes, state school budgets and district expenses: only a school superintendent knows the full impact of these problems, and with some assistance they are his problems to solve.

Mr. Robert Herness, Administrative Assistant is responsible for transportation, equipment and supply orders, and the operation of the school lunch program. Coordinating teachers requests for materials and funds available are just a couple of the headaches that beset the administrative office.

Mr. Smith, North Thurston's librarian, was always ready and willing to help students in their quest for knowledge.

Mrs. Murphy, the school nurse, took care of the students' aches and pains as well as such things as hearing tests.

Mrs. Hays worked in the library helping students find information and checking out books.

The counselors, Mr. Drittenbas, Mrs. Vaughn, and Mr. Bykirk, were busy all year helping the students with personal as well as educational problems.

1. Mrs. Horne
2. Mrs. Thompson
3. Mr. McCall
4. Mrs. Zimmerman
5. Mrs. Nelson
6. Mrs. Claar
7. Mrs. Nast
8. Mrs. Barnes

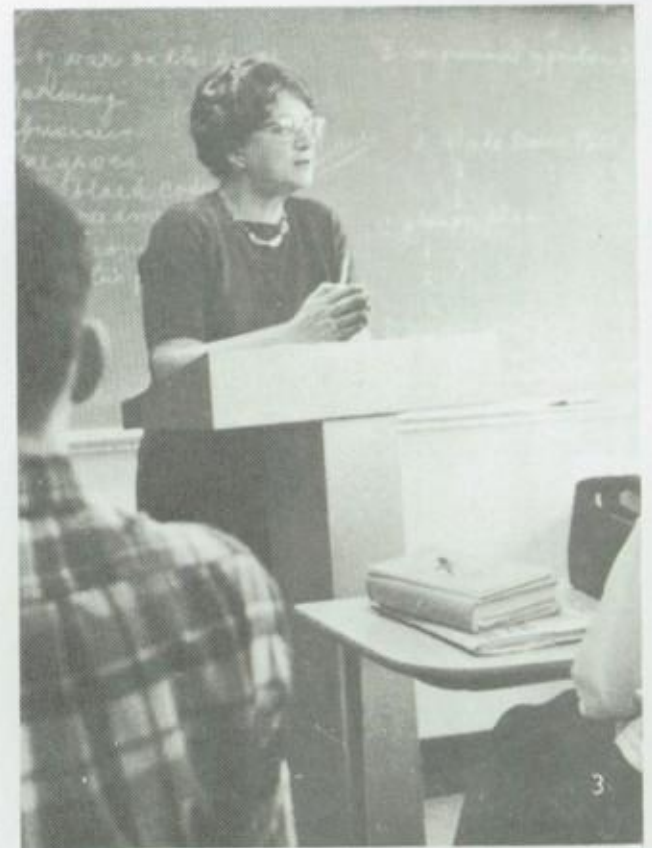

Mrs. Horne and Mrs. Thompson were valuable assets to the school office. Their courtesy and patience enabled things to run smoothly. Their efforts were greatly appreciated by the students and faculty.

Thanks to Mr. McCall the buildings and grounds of our school were kept neat; he was the general handyman of the school. Such tasks as arranging conferences and taking care of counseling materials were undertaken by Mrs. Zimmerman, the counselors' secretary.

The students of North Thurston were fortunate to have such fine cooks this year. Besides preparing interesting lunches, they prepared meals for club banquets.

History is defined in the dictionary as being a systematic record of past events, especially of those concerning the life of a nation and in which has taken part. In the fast moving world of today, the past is being forgotten and people are looking to the future. However, at North Thurston, history is an important part of the curriculum.

Students voice their opinions on annexation verses incorporation.

They Direct Our Minds

1. Mr. Thomas
2. Mr. McCallum
3. Mrs. Newton
4. Mr. Arbuckle
5. Mr. Kiolet
6. Mr. Kravas
7. Mr. Prinos

The head of the History Department, Mr. Thomas, taught three classes of World History and two classes of U.S. History. He also coached the track team and was the senior class advisor.

Mr. McCallum coached the basketball team and was assistant football coach, as well as the teacher of five periods of U.S. History.

Latin, Contemporary Problems, and U.S. History were taught by Mrs. Newton. She also served as the advisor to North Thurston's Honor Society.

Besides coaching our cross country and track teams, Mr. Arbuckle taught Economics and World History.

Government was taught by Mr. Kiolet this past year. He also coached J.V. Football and J.V. Baseball.

Mr. Kravas taught two periods of U.S. History, as well as three periods of World History. He also served as the advisor to the junior class.

The swim team was coached this past year by Mr. Prinos. He also served as the advisor to the Ski Club. Besides these extra activities, Mr. Prinos taught Sociology and World History.

"The expression and communication of emotions or ideas between human beings by means of speech and hearing . . ." is the definition given for language in the dictionary. English is a required course at North Thurston, yet other languages were also offered this past year. These foreign languages offered were: Latin, French, and Spanish. Besides teaching English, Mrs. Baughman, head of the department, also taught one period of Creative Writing.

Mrs. Cason taught five periods of English. She also served as advisor to Girl's League.

The Future Teachers of America were advised by Mr. Linder. He also taught five periods of English.

The "Rampage" was put out bi-monthly under the supervision of Mrs. Tjossem. Besides teaching Journalism, she taught four classes of English. In addition to this, she was Quill and Scroll advisor.

The Thespian Club was advised by North Thurston's drama coach, Mrs. Hickerson. Besides teaching Drama, she also taught English and Speech. Mrs. Thunder, a new teacher at North Thurston this past year, taught five periods of English.

Mrs. Thunder, a new teacher at North Thurston this past year, taught five periods of English.

Miss Rosengren, also a new teacher taught five periods of English too. She also helped direct the fall play.

North Thurston's Foreign Language Club was advised by Mrs. Pearl. Mrs. Pearl also taught five periods of Spanish.

Five periods of French were taught by Mrs. Williams this past year. She also spent much of her time acting as advisor to the sophomore class.

Mathematics is a logical, yet challenging study. The students of North Thurston were offered math in various stages, from Business Math to the more complicated Math Analysis. Mr. Bozak, who was head of the math department, taught three classes of Algebra and two classes of Geometry. Mr. Fry taught three math classes as well as two classes of Driver's Training. Mr. Fry also advised the Letterman's Club. He was Assistant Football Coach and Assistant Track Coach.

Miss Western advised V.C.Y., as well as co-advising the senior class. She also taught three classes of Geometry and two Algebra classes.

Mr. Hackstadt taught three classes of Geometry, one class of Math Analysis, and one class of Solid Trig. Besides teaching math, Mr. Hackstadt was advisor to the Hicking Club.

Science is a study that is marked by exact observation, organized experiment, and correct thinking. The science students of North Thurston worked hard to learn about all phases of science.

Mr. Rice, who was head of the department, advised the Science Club. He taught four periods of Biology and one period of Research Science. Mrs. Farringer taught four periods of Chemistry as well as one period of Geometry. She also devoted her time as Pep Club advisor.

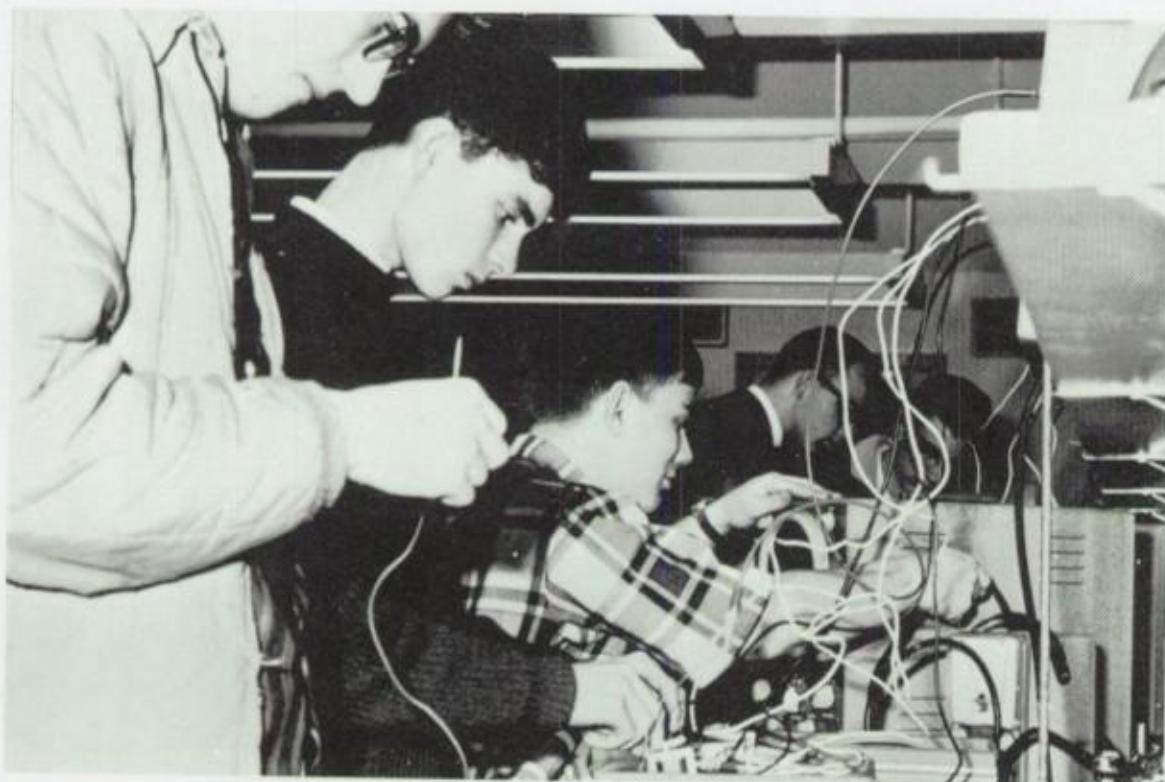

Assistant Girls' League advisor, Mrs. Bouton, taught four periods of Biology and one period of Senior Math.

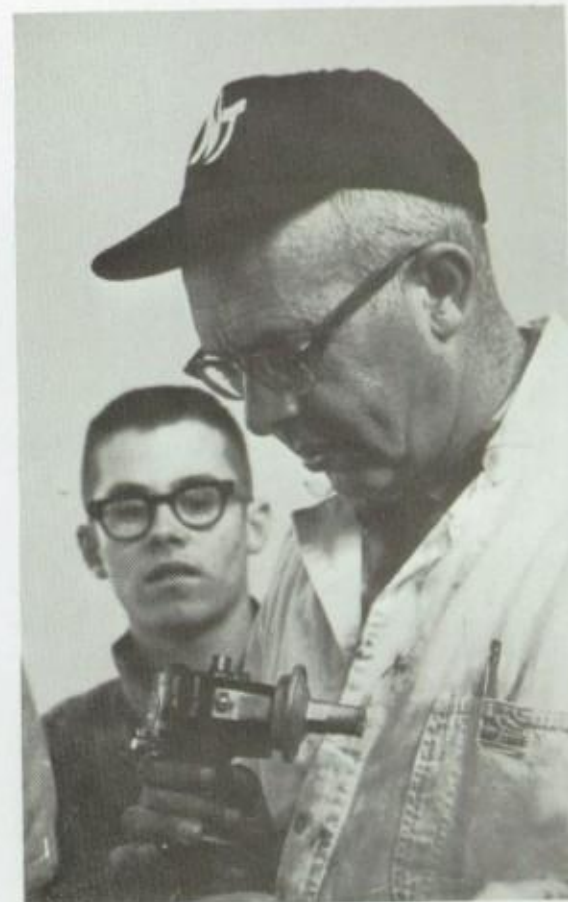

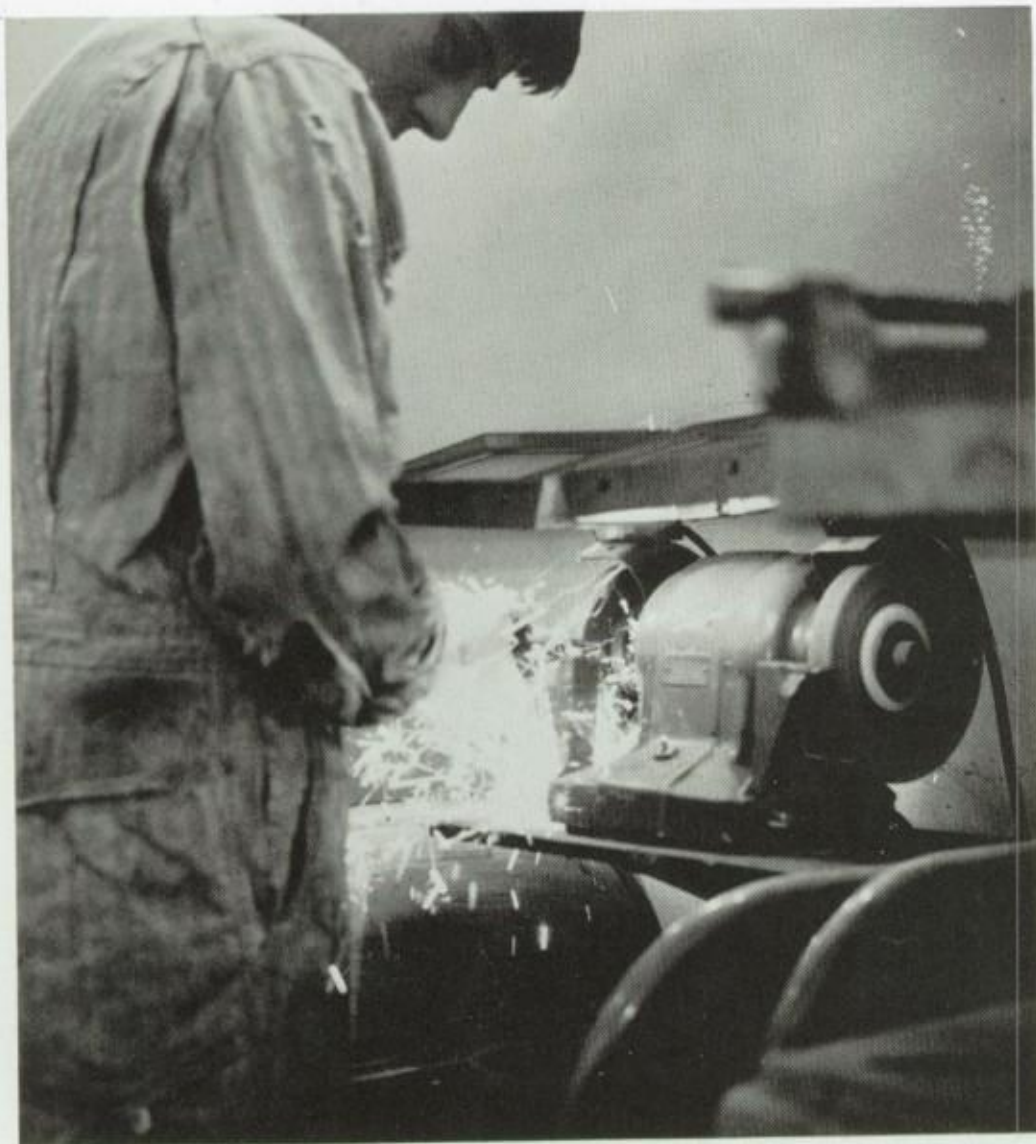

Mr. Nevers, who taught five periods of Biology, also was the sophomore class advisor, as well as the assistant wrestling coach.

Mr. Booth served the junior class as its assistant advisor. He also taught five periods of various fields of science.

6. Mr. Kuula
7. Mr. Raben

Mr. Hauser, who was head of the Industrial Arts department, taught Auto Essentials and Advanced Auto Shop. Service Club advisor, Mr. Bettine, taught four periods of Woodshop and one period of Boat Building.

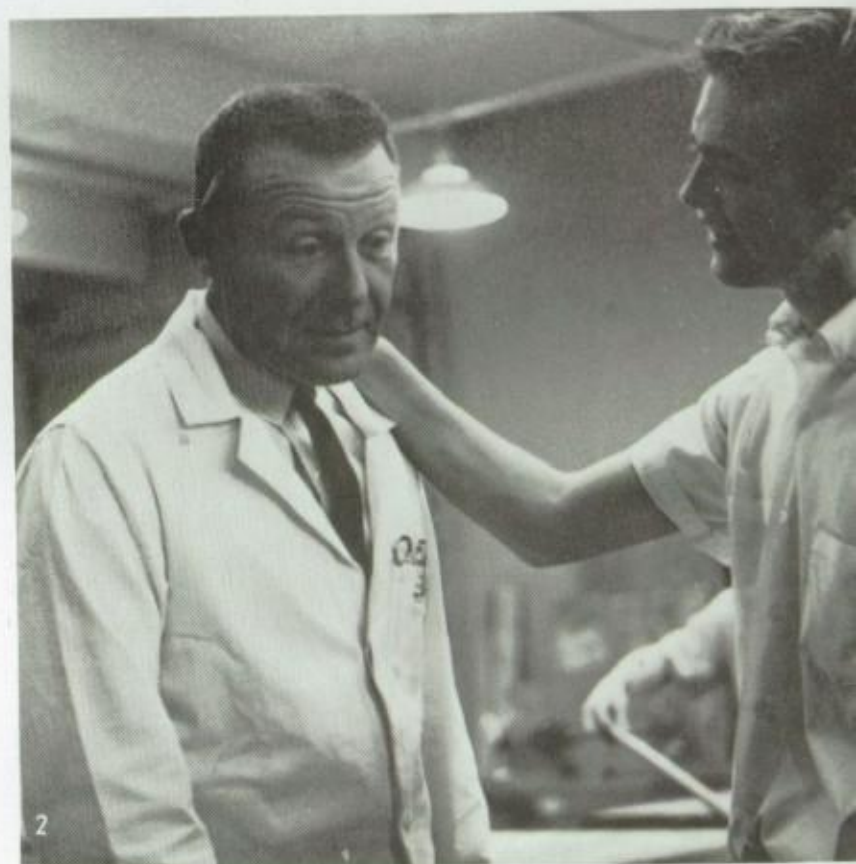

Mr. Jouno, who advised the future farmers at North Thurston, was head of the agriculture program here.

Mr. Russell, who was in charge of all school publications, was advisor to the Yearbook. He also guided courses in Graphic Arts, Photography, and Production Printing.

Mr. Peterson taught six periods of Driver's Training, one of which he taught after school.

Besides teaching three periods of Driver's Training, Mr. Kuula taught two periods of Drafting. After school he spent his time acting as advisor to the Rifle Club.

Courses in Drafting and Metals were taught by North Thurston's Golf coach, Mr. Raben.

Never Ending Patience

1. Miss Stender
2. Miss Morisette
3. Mr. Iverson
4. Mr. Fouts

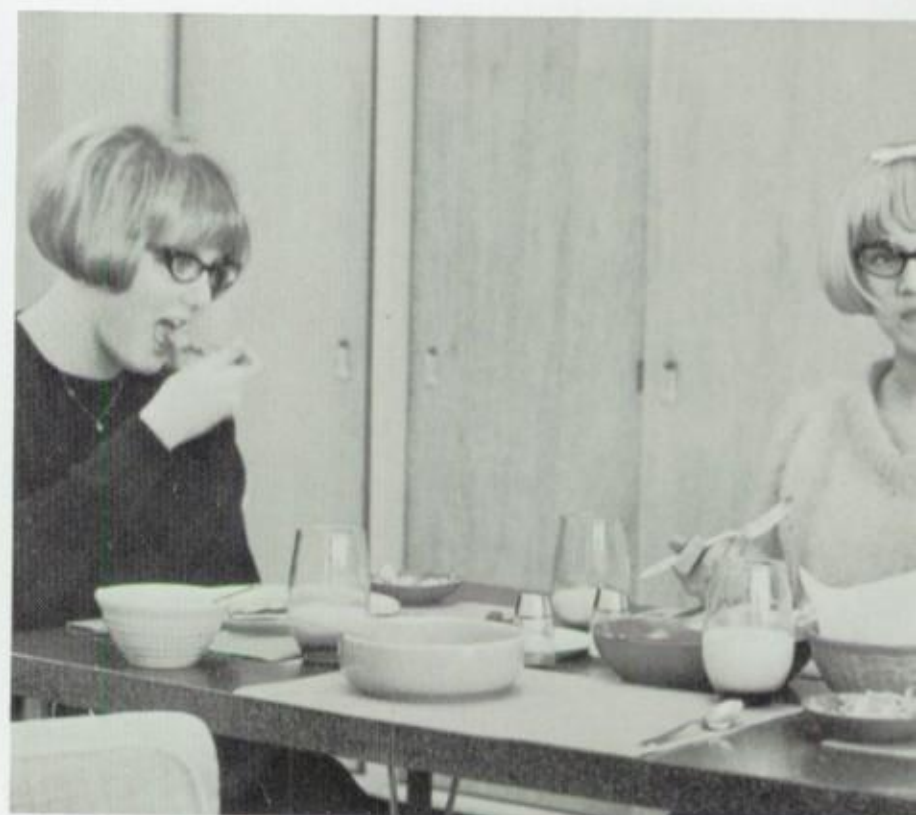

Miss Stender was the advisor of G.A.A. and the synchronized swimmers. In addition, she coached the girls' tennis team.

Miss Morisette was responsible for the success of the drill team.

Mr. Fouts' superior coaching led our outstanding Ram football team through a rewarding season. In addition to this, he coached the baseball team.

Mr. Iverson coached the Ram's fine wrestling team. He also supervised the gymnastic activities.

1. Mr. Murphy
2. Mr. Price
3. Mrs. Jouno
4. Miss Liddell
5. Mr. Fosdick

Mr. Murphy, who was the art instructor, advised the boys' tennis team.

Mr. Price our outstanding music director, also spent many hours working with the cheerleaders.

The Future Homemakers of America at North Thurston were advised by Mrs. Jouno and Miss Liddell. They also taught home economics.

Special classes in math, science, woodshop, government, and English, were taught by Mr. Fosdick.

Mrs. Brown, who is head of the business education department, taught three periods of typing as well as three periods of bookkeeping. She also kept track of the A.S.B. accounts.

Miss Raymond supervised classes in shorthand, office practice, and business machines. In addition, she was in charge of the business education equipment.

The Merchandising Club was advised by Miss Carr, who also instructed classes in steno. and typing.

... A SYMBOL OF INDIVIDUALITY

A fine group of A.S.B. Officers worked hard to better our relations with other schools as well as work on our general school spirit. The idea of an Inner-High Council between the area's three high schools is an example, also the proposal of having a column in the Daily Olympian would let the other schools know what we are doing. This spirit of friendliness benefitted our school a great deal.

As far as bettering the North Thurston High School itself the Executive Council worked very hard. Not only by continuing current traditions but coming up with ideas of their own. The working towards setting up a Student Court and the setting up of a Smoking Committee are a few of these new ideas. The sponsoring of the ASB Card selling contest with Tumwater and the lending of money to the Band for new uniforms are a couple of the traditions kept by this year's Executive Council.

One important problem of the school which was very often neglected was tackled by this past years officers. This was the establishment of a better student-faculty relationship.

This past year the ASB Council also took part in a national cause. This past year they were the head of the annual March of Dimes Committee. They attended, along with committees from other high schools, a Birth Defects Clinic in Seattle.

The Building and Grounds Committee, under the guidance of Mike Kher, spent its time trying to beautify our school. They painted the purple and white stripes on the goalpost and made a plaque with the alma-mater inscribed on it. They also held their annual paint day in the spring and worked towards a more adequate broadcast booth.

A new idea was introduced this year by Lloyd Warren and the Publications Committee this year. This was the Ramphones, a list of all the phone numbers of all the students in the school. The committee also put out the monthly calendar and printed the Ramifications.

The Calendar Committee, headed by Ray Colombo was kept extremely busy with making up the 1967-68 calendar. They also helped with the monthly calendar which kept the students well informed.

The presentation of the Ramhorns was done by the Activities Committee headed by Dave Climer. They boosted school spirit by pushing the A.S.B. card-selling contest with Tumwater. They also made this year's senior auction a success.

Ronnie Wertz and his Fire and Safety Committee made routine inspections of the school to assure us of no fire hazards. Several of the years projects included removing the bushes on the Shaw Road and Sleater-Kinney corner, painting the fire plugs, and holding an annual paint day.

The Reader Board Committee under the supervision of Ron Fink did a fine job keeping the students of NTHS informed of the current events. The two reader boards were changed regularly and held all the latest news.

Ross Lasater and the Constitution Committee were confronted with an enormous job. This was looking over the NTHS Constitution and revising it to fit the present needs of the school. This undertaking they performed creditably.

The Music and Records Committee, headed by Nancy Failor, was confronted with the problem of entertaining the students. The committee compiled a list of local and popular bands for the use of the various clubs and organizations. They also took a survey of what the students thought of the school dances.

The Budget and Finance Committee, headed by Charlene Morris, was confronted with the past year's financial problems. They audited all accounts and solved the financial problems. They also set up a new system of check requests and financial statements.

Bob conducts the meeting.

Bob and Mr. Bower converse.

Thirty-nine new members are elected each semester to represent their home rooms in Student Council. These persons hold the right to vote and make all important decisions in our Student Government. An important purpose of having a Student Council is to improve relations between other students and teachers.

This year's Student Council didn't seem to undertake as many activities as in the past although there was plenty of willingness to work. Proof of this was shown by the very successful Carnival put on by the whole school to raise more money for the band uniforms.

Key student officers inspect picture of school activities.

ELECT GOVERNMENT

This year's elections got off to a slow start. Some of the candidates registered late and failed to put up posters.

Overall there was a lack of enthusiasm in the school for the elections. This year there was a first in our school. The voting machines were used in the primaries and the final elections.

Campaigners mount their posters.

The 1966-67 Rambler was the product of another year of hard work. Many extra hours were spent taking pictures and completing page paste-ups for deadlines. The annual staff also maintained the concession stand at all football and basketball games held at North Thurston.

In the spring of '66, the North Thurston Student Body voted and passed a special issue which provided for a fall delivery of the Rambler. This policy proved to be advantageous to the staff by providing more time to complete the book. In addition, the fall deadline enabled a more complete coverage of spring events, including the May Dance and graduation.

Under the editorship of Lloyd Warren, the annual staff toiled throughout the the school year and then presented the '67 Rambler to the student body the following fall. The fall annual signing party was the final event sponsored by the staff, nearly a year after production had begun.

North Thurston High School's newspaper, The Rampage, was under the supervision of Mrs. Tjossem. The editorship was in the hands of Pat Krehbiel 1st semester and Gary Peterson 2nd Semester. One class period a day was devoted to the publication plus many hours after school. The staff was rewarded for their work with a paper put out bi-monthly. New features were added this year including more pictures and a letters to the editor column.

President Marsha Skewis confers with Mrs. Tjossem.

This past year the Quill and Scroll club, under the leadership of Mrs. Tjossem, encouraged the of N.T.H.S. to express themselves through writing. The printing of the previous years book, The End, was one of their most important projects along with printing their own edition. They also sponsored a composition contest, and wrote articles, that were printed in the Rampage, to stimulate the students of N.T.H.S.

The club began with a handful but grew substantially when new members were picked from the top one third of the class in Journalism and Annual Staff. This was done at the beginning of the second semester. The club belongs to a nationwide organization, The National Quill and Scroll Society.

Mrs. Barton gives pointers to Debate Team.

This past year's debate team worked to gain a full background in current controversial problems. The team was scheduled for six regular meets and one novice meet. There was also an opportunity for one or two invitational meets. The debaters competed in the Seamount league, as did the athletes. Mrs. Barton, a new addition to the school, was faced with a problem not unlike most athletic teams. She had only two experienced debaters. But like most North Thurston teams, other interested students filled the vacancies and performed well. The team as a whole completed a very credible season.

To the strains of "Sweet Georgia Brown," "Swingin' Safari" and "Taste of Honey" the North Thurston Band set the tempo for the football and basketball games. This reflected an attitude of uniqueness and enthusiasm. This tempo was also reflected in the band's performance in the opening of South Sound shopping center, Seamount League festival, Shelton Forest Festival, and fall and spring concerts. Non-musical endeavors to promote funds for new uniforms were marked by a candy sale and an auction. With the help of the student body and the above projects the band was able to achieve its goal.

A group of outstanding voices characterizes the North Thurston Select Chorus. Their ability to provide good entertainment for the student body was never doubted by anyone. Visibility was exhibited by numerous contests and programs. Among these were the spring and fall concerts, Christmas program, Seamount League Festival, and several contests. Two girls stood out among the group as soloists. Jan Jaussi and Nancy Failor were selected to attend All-Northwest. The girls got to travel to Missoula, Montana for the honor. The whole chorus performed creditably throughout the year.

Mr. Edlund conducted this year's String Orchestra. It consisted of twelve members in string and twenty-four members in full. Many appearances and several hours of long, hard work kept the orchestra members very busy this year. They were able to appear before many different groups and were very enjoyable to listen to.

The Girls' Glee is a non-selective, preparatory class. The main goal is to give girls a chance to learn to sing and enjoy music. Small ensembles are encouraged to develop within this group. The Glee took part in the Fall Concert, sang for the shut-ins at Capital Arms, and participated in the Spring Concert.

Swing Choir, under the leadership of Larry Price, was a new organization formed during the 1966-67 year. The eighteen members, nine boys and nine girls, were chosen from Select Chorus. They were outfitted in matching blue blazers and flowered dresses and looked neat and proper for all occasions. They practiced on Tuesday nights and sang for numerous banquets and conventions including a few school functions. To add interest in their swing numbers, they added some choreography. When they attended contest they received a superior rating.

A variety of different types of plays put on throughout the year kept this year's Thespian Club very busy. Two extra one act plays were produced this year as their part in the North Thurston Carnival. In addition to these plays a fall and three small spring plays were put on. As last year, this year's Thespian Club also took part in a one-act play contest in Tacoma.

This year the North Thurston Drill Team was headed by two Drillmasters. First semester was Eileen Jackson; Second semester was Dixie Rhodes. Their main purpose was to entertain the crowds during the halftime sessions of the football and basketball games. Besides marching they sold popcorn during all the games. They were also invited to march at the Shelton Forest Festival. This year was very rewarding for both the girls and the audiences.

Though a lack of participation hindered the effectiveness of the North Thurston Chess Club the club still stayed in effect. Only the ones that were really interested in the game came and participated. President Gary Peterson led the small membership to many enjoyable chess afternoons. The skill of the members was so close that a club champion was never established. A tournament was held towards the end of the year to determine a champion. The club, throughout the year, attempted to further the interest in the game of chess.

The Song and Yell staff, under the guidance of Mr. Price, strove to create enthusiasm and pep throughout the school year. The cheerleaders started preparing themselves for the busy year ahead by beginning practice early. They practiced everyday during the summer which was climaxed at a conference in Ellensburg, Washington. Their hard efforts were well rewarded by a first place in yell and a third in song competition.

This was their first year as a combined song and yell staff, which the cheerleaders themselves, thought worked much better. Other activities done by the staff this year were a dance held in February, marching in the Shelton Forest Festival Parade, cheering at the football and basketball games and attending wrestling matches as well.

With Mr. Prinos as their new advisor the North Thurston Alpiners Ski Club attempted to go up skiing as often as possible. They went up almost every weekend with only a few casualties during the season. Most of the members attended the annual overnight which was held in April up at White Pass. Parents were invited to one of the meetings so that they might better become acquainted with the purposes of Ski Club.

Interests in sports, sportsmanship and to encourage a feeling of good fellowship among the girls of our school are their goals. Their colors are purple and white. Their nickname that is heard around the locker room is "those girls in the gym." In actuality they are the members of the G.A.A. or Girls Athletic Association. Sometimes their number was few but there were always enough to make the games interesting and fun. By attendance at the Monday afternoon sessions they earned points towards a letter and membership in the Girls Letter Club.

Their willingness to work and to set an example of good pep spirit was always apparent throughout the year. The presence of pep signs in the halls and different class competition projects bolstered the spirit of the athletes. The successful Homecoming Dance was a product of an active Pep Club. The North Thurston Pep Club held cake sales, donut sales and kept tally of the class competition points. They also were proprietors at a cake walk booth at the first North Thurston Carnival.

A club which often doesn't receive full credit at N.T.H.S. is the Service Club. Its main purpose was to patrol our school. Other jobs carried out by Service Club were to guard gates at football games, park cars, and sell tickets. A new job, added this year, was to watch that everyone obeyed the traffic circle. President Mike McHugh and advisor Mr. Kuula helped guide Service Club members so that they could help their school attain a greater goal of honor and pride.

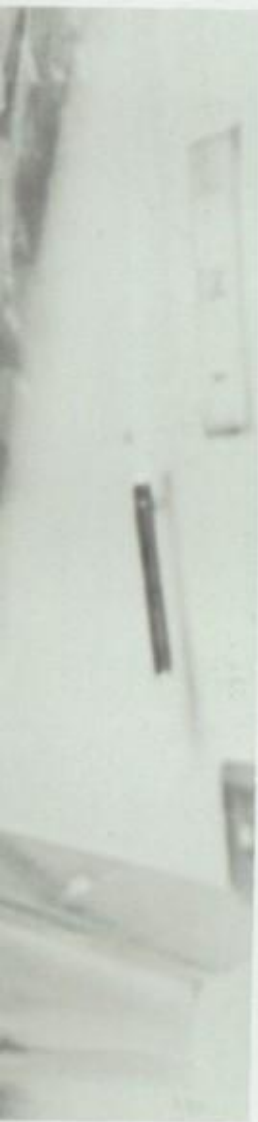

This the ninth year of the North Thurston Lettermen's Club was marked by enthusiasm and all out drive. The athletes maintained the snack-bar and held the annual Lettermen's Club dance. They also entertained the school with the annual initiation rites in the spring. Their was a large membership last year owing to the fact that there was a large amount of sophomores earning their monograms. Students could attest to this by viewing the vast sea of purple letter jackets. These jackets were a symbol of an N.T.H.S. athlete. The club succeeded last year by buying an 8mm movie projector, for showing athletic sports films, and giving some worthy boy a one hundred dollar scholarship.

The 1966-67 Girls' League started the year out with their annual Big Little Sister Slumber Party which was held in September. The club, under the leadership of Cindy Watts, sponsored the Seamount League Conference at North Thurston. In March the girls held their main money raising event of the year which was the annual Girls' League Tolo. As a tribute to their parents a Father-Daughter Banquet was held in November and a Mother-Daughter Tea in May. As in the past the girls sponsored a patient at Rainier State School in Buckley and made monthly trips to see her.

1966-67 was a very profitable year for the North Thurston Torch Chapter of the National Honor Society. Their annual dance, working at Ralph's Thriftway, and a record membership, all paying dues brought much money to the treasury. This treasury bought food for a group of Korean children, gave a hundred dollar scholarship, and bought a plaque honoring the top ten students from the class of '67. The North Thurston Honor Society kept close contact with the Olympia and Tumwater chapters by attending a tri-school potluck in the spring. Lloyd Warren, president, led the club with a firm hand and kept things together. Mrs. Newton's thought and guidance helped the club to overcome their difficulties and to make Honor Society a successful year.

Parlez-vous Francias? Hables Espanol? These were words frequently spoken in the North Thurston Foreign Language Club. This year's group did a good job in promoting interest in foreign culture and languages. Jeanne Hurd led the club to a successful dance and spring potluck. They also gave a scholarship to a senior language student for the pursuit of college work in foreign languages. This year's club was enlightened by several guest speakers during the year.

The North Thurston High School Science Club's main purpose is to promote a general interest in Science. The club went on many field trips during the year. Among these were a trip to the Upper Skokomish, a visit to the Washington State Pollution Control Laboratory, and an excursion to the Ape Cove in Cowlitz County. The club also sponsored and set up the Puget Sound Science Club Conference. Though small in number the club accomplished a lot. Last year's president was Mike Barnett, Mr. Rice advised the club.

A hot dog sale at the Homecoming game set off the year for the Merchandising Club. Learning how to make ads and displays were some of the things the club did to prepare themselves to carry out their purpose. An understanding of business and business management was a key point in the club which met every day as a class. A trip to Nalley Valley helped clear up a lot of questions of the members. This year they initiated a welfare basket to which each member donated some food.

This years active Art Club accomplished many fine achievements for the school and themselves. One of the most important things they did was to provide interesting pieces of art for the students to look at. This year the club put out a calendar to raise money to purchase art work and provide a scholarship to some deserving student. The club made a step towards better relations between Olympia High School and N.T.H.S. entering jointly in an art show at the Capitol Museum.

The North Thurston Hiking Club, only two years old, was a very active club this year. They fulfilled their purpose very well by going on many hikes. The club's purpose is aptly defined by one sentence. That is, to enjoy and respect Washington's natural resources and to provide some form of physical activity. Last year the club traveled to Gobblers Nob, Ho Head, Mount Rainier, and the ocean.

This year for the first time, Rifle Club has deviated from rifle shooting to expand to trap shooting. This was done through the great interest and efforts put forth by the members to raise the money to finance this interesting but expensive sport. This past year's membership was the largest North Thurston has ever had. From this large membership, a champion was selected from both sports and awarded the Club Championship Award. This award is highly praised by its recipient who also must be considered by the Club to be a safe shooter and good sportsman. This award goes along with the main purpose of the club which is to promote safety and sportsmanship.

The Future Homemakers of America worked hard to carry out this years project "Morals and Manners Matter." To help them develop this program speakers and panels were brought in throughout the year. The girls themselves presented their annual fall and spring style shows in which they showed their sewing ability. Under the leadership of President Kathy Query this proved to be a very successful and rewarding year for all girls in F.H.A.

This years chapter of the Future Farmers of America helped to promote many worthwhile and successful projects. They held their annual Harvest Ball in October and announced their 1966-67 Sweetheart. Miss Cindy Watts, one of the deserving nominees, won this honor. Other projects sponsored by the club this year were a Christmas basket, a Miss March of Dimes contest, and a scholarship given to a deserving member of F.F.A. The club this year had many judging contests with other schools and among some of the things they judged were crops, poultry, dairy, and beef.

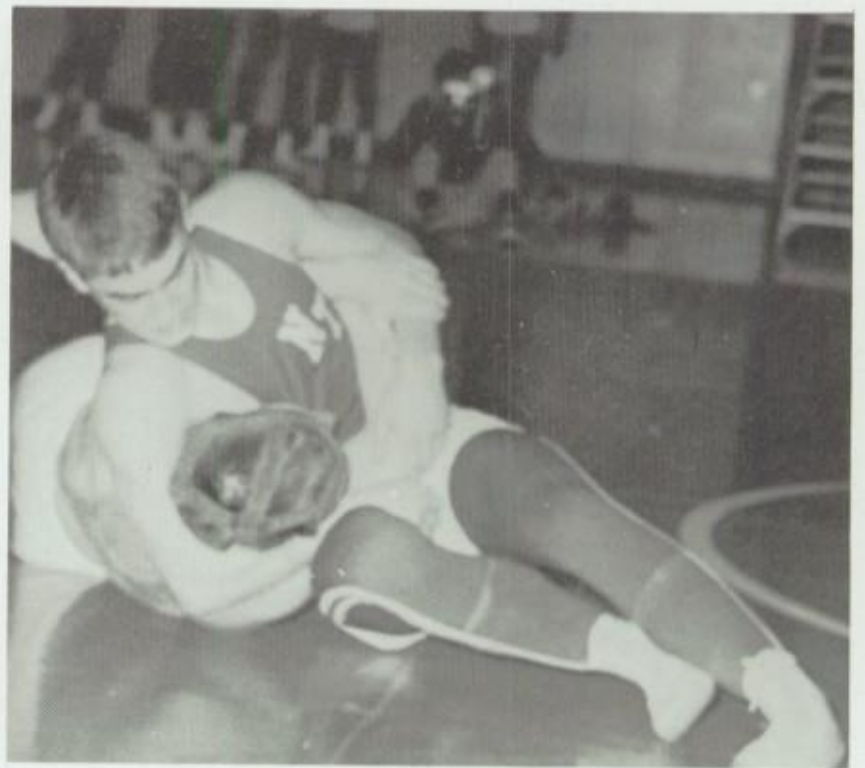

This was one of the most active years as a club for the Future Teachers of America. All members agree with this because it has taken many hours of their time to make F.T.A. a successful group. This past year the club was able to visit some of the district grade schools which gave them a better idea of what teaching was actually like. Other projects carried out this year were the Annual Teacher Cookie Sale, the Teacher of the Year Award and a scholarship was awarded to a senior in the school.

A club seemingly behind the scenes this year was the North Thurston Red Cross. Nobody really knows about the Red Cross Club. Sue Keller along with Carol Newquist led the group with the help of Miss Liddell. The club helped with and initiated projects at Madigan General Hospital, American Lake Veterans Hospital, St. Peter's Hospital, local nursing homes and other Red Cross services. Each member visited Madigan one a month on a regularly scheduled day.

CROSS COUNTRY

With three returning lettermen from last years team, Coach Arbuckle looked at the season a bit optimistic and knew that the Curtis team would again be a strong competitor in the league.

The 1966 season was one of both triumph and hardship. With the hard running of seniors Dick Huntamer, Terry Trana and Mike Kjer their finishes sometimes spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

For the second year in a row, the Rams again finished second place in the Seamount League behind a strong running Curtis team.

Coach Arbuckle checks the results.

Best Golfer, Dave Bozak.

The golf team, under the direction of Coach Raben, and led by Dave Bozak with 127 points was spirited to a 7 win 3 loss season. Along with Dave, Mark Bateman with 99 team points and Jeff McMonagle with 95 points helped the team on to the second place spot in the Seamount League.

The mighty Ram golfers were upset only three times during the season. Sumner, Enumclaw and Bethel were the lucky teams.

The 1966 Rams worked hard in getting ready for their first game with the Fife Trojans, who were picked in the pre-season poll to take the championship. The Rams met the Trojans and with a hard fought game came out with a 25-18 win.

The following week the Rams met the Tumwater T-birds the cross town rivals and exploded to a 46-13 win. With two wins under their belt the Rams traveled to Bethel to meet the Braves, and subdued them to one of the worst defeats in the schools history, 50-6. Then the following week the Rams met the always tough Sumner team on the Ram's home turf and beat the Spartans for the first time since they entered the league. The final score read 19-0.

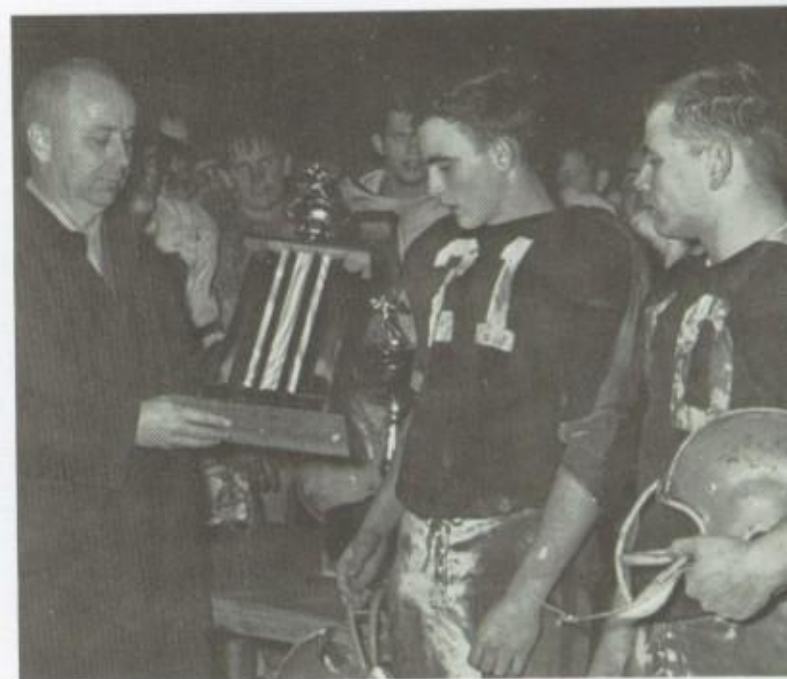

Finding themselves in first place in the Seamount League and ranked tenth in the state. The Rams traveled to Curtis to play the always tough Vikings and came off with a 20-7 win. The next week the Rams bombed the Sea Hawks of Peninsula 33-21. The Rams were riding high, and in the next game with Laughbon they literally picked the Panthers apart handing them a 43-0 loss. This set the stage for the all important homecoming game with Enumclaw Hornets. The Hornets were up for the game, but the Rams, not to be out done came off with a 19-13 homecoming victory. Even though it was a fine victory the Rams lost their hard running back Mike Spurgin, who suffered two twisted ankles.

The Rams were defeated in the championship game at Sumner with a 13-6 setback by the Fife Trojans. Score means nothing and the team showed great hustle and determination to the end.

The entire student body of North Thurston can be proud of a fine and great team.

With the return of seven varsity letter winners from last years team, Coach Iverson began the 1966-67 season with a very optimistic outlook on the forth coming matches and felt he would have to rely on the lighter weights if he was to repeat last years championship. John Burkholder, Mike Norris, Gary Windust, Dennis Schlenker, and Dave Climer would all be faced with much of the burden for the coming year. Dave Jones and Mike Burdick were the only returning men from the heavier weights. Thurston had a fourteen game winning streak going into this years season and ended it after winning over twenty in a row to the Fife Trojans. After the loss of this one match the mighty Rams came back and tied for the league title with Fife and Curtis.

North Thurston sent its entire team to sub-district and took the team honors by a wide margin over Fife and Curtis. The Rams qualified nine members for district. The Rams captured district honors and qualified six members of the team for the state meet at Ellensburg, these members included, John Burkholder, Mike Norris, Dennis Iverson, Neil Cebel, Dennins Schlenker, and Dave Climer. Out of 192 teams participating in the state meet the Rams captured seventh place in the state with Dave Climer taking second place and John Burkholder taking third. Congratulations to Coach Iverson and the entire wrestling team on a job well done.

GREAT TEAM SPIRIT...!

With a comparatively short team, the Rams started off by winning four before the Sumner Spartans beat them in a close, hard fought, battle. The team, sparked by the hustle of Ray Columbo and the shooting power of Aubrey Frazier, worked hard to beat every team on the roster. The team consisted of only five seniors, six juniors and one sophomore.

The Rams were fast and quick. Their offense and defense showed this through-out the season.

This past years varsity basketball team was characterized by speed, agility, hustle and determination. The team had no real great height, the tallest being 6'4". The strategy planned by coach McCallum was that in order to win, they would have to press, fast break and most important, run the opponents out the end of the gym. This being because of the lack of height on the squad.

The Rams were handicapped somewhat by a very profitable football season, since the league playoff game was November 18, and many footballers play basketball. On top of this several were still nursing injuries from football.

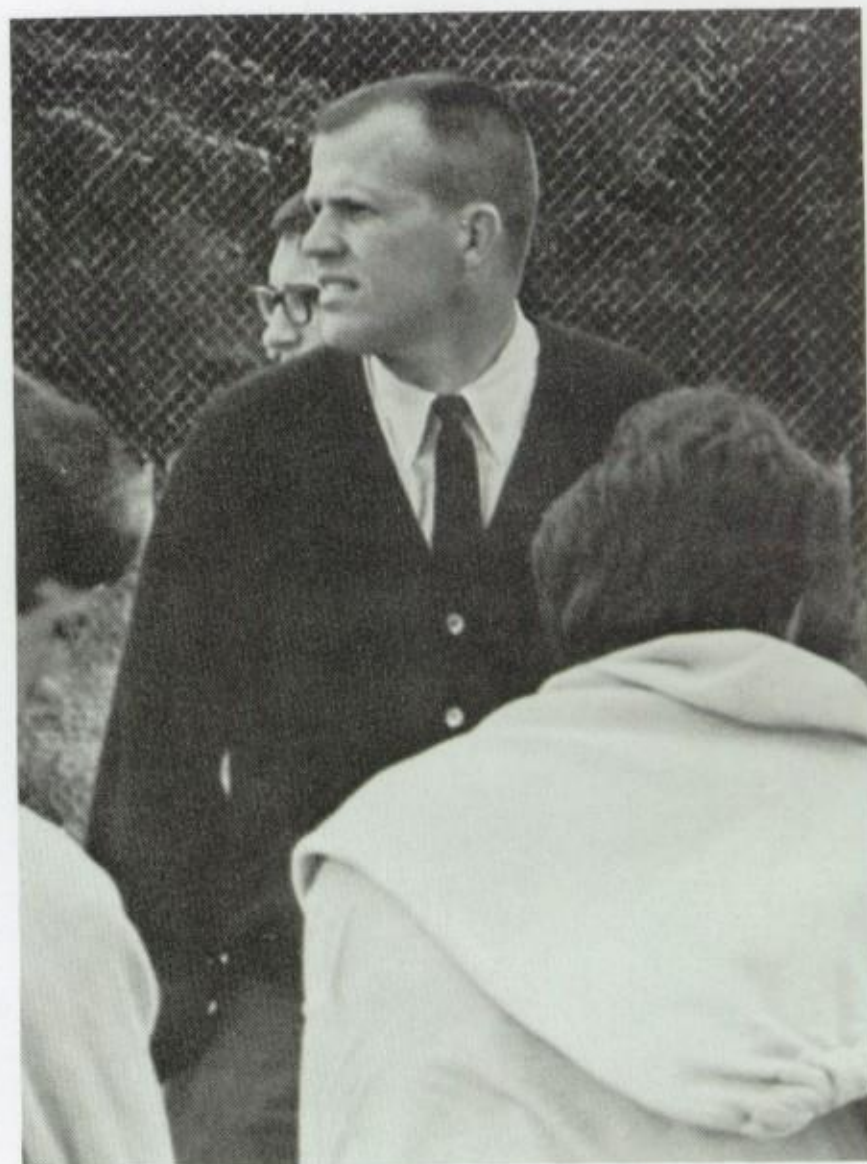

Guard Ray Columbo was the only starter back from the last years squad. Mr. McCallum had two other lettermen back besides Ray, seniors Ed Henderson and Aubrey Fraizer.

Last years track squad was characterized by six sets of brothers including: the Colombos, the Roths, the DeKays, the Davis', the Hendersons, the Jones, all of which excelled in their particular event or events. Other outstanding athletes are Mike Spurgin, The Orendorfs, Clark Taylor, just to name a few helped keep up North Thurs-tons excellent record in Track. Only beat once in league meets, the team had to bend to Curtis for the league title and take second place.

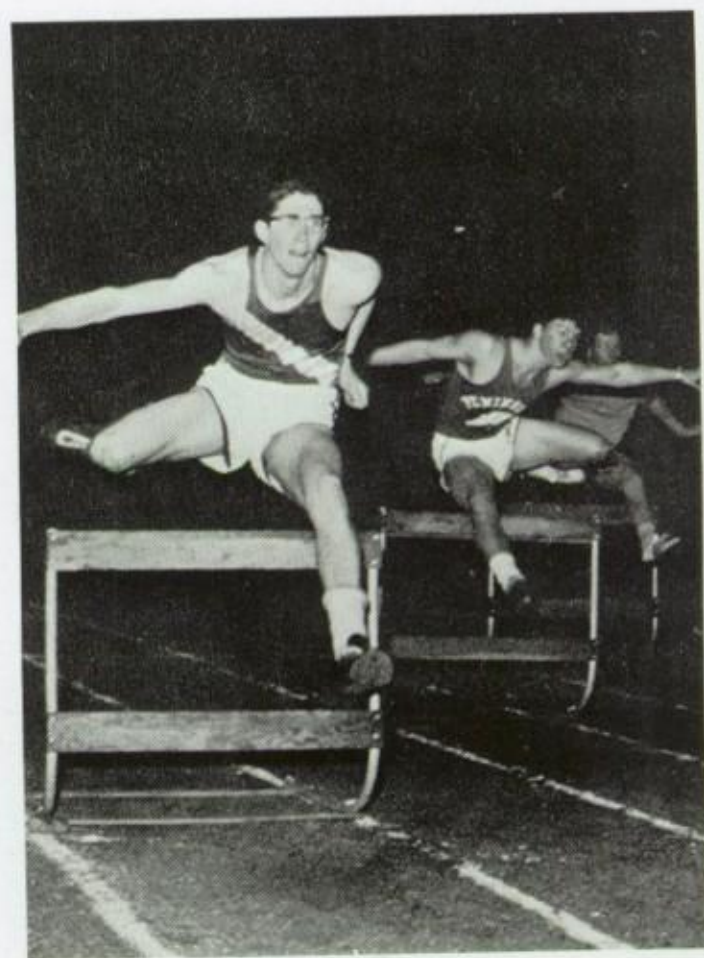

Coached by Mr. Thomas and Mr. Arbuckle, the team worked hard to achieve their purpose. These two men were considered by the team as being excellent men to work for and to know. The members of track squad are sometimes referred to or have been given the nick name of "Track Rats," but they seem to have enjoyed the title. Records which were broken this past year are: low hurdles by Mike Spurgin; high hurdles by John Dorian; broad jump by Ray Colombo; and the pole vault by Elden Colombo, all contributing to make the 1967 track season most enjoyable for every one involved.

SOPHOMORES

The class of '69 was the largest class to ever enter the halls of North Thurston. Throughout their first high school year, members of the class used their tremendous size to advantage and worked as a unified group to win the attendance at many of the games. They were also the victors of much of the class competition at pep-assemblies.

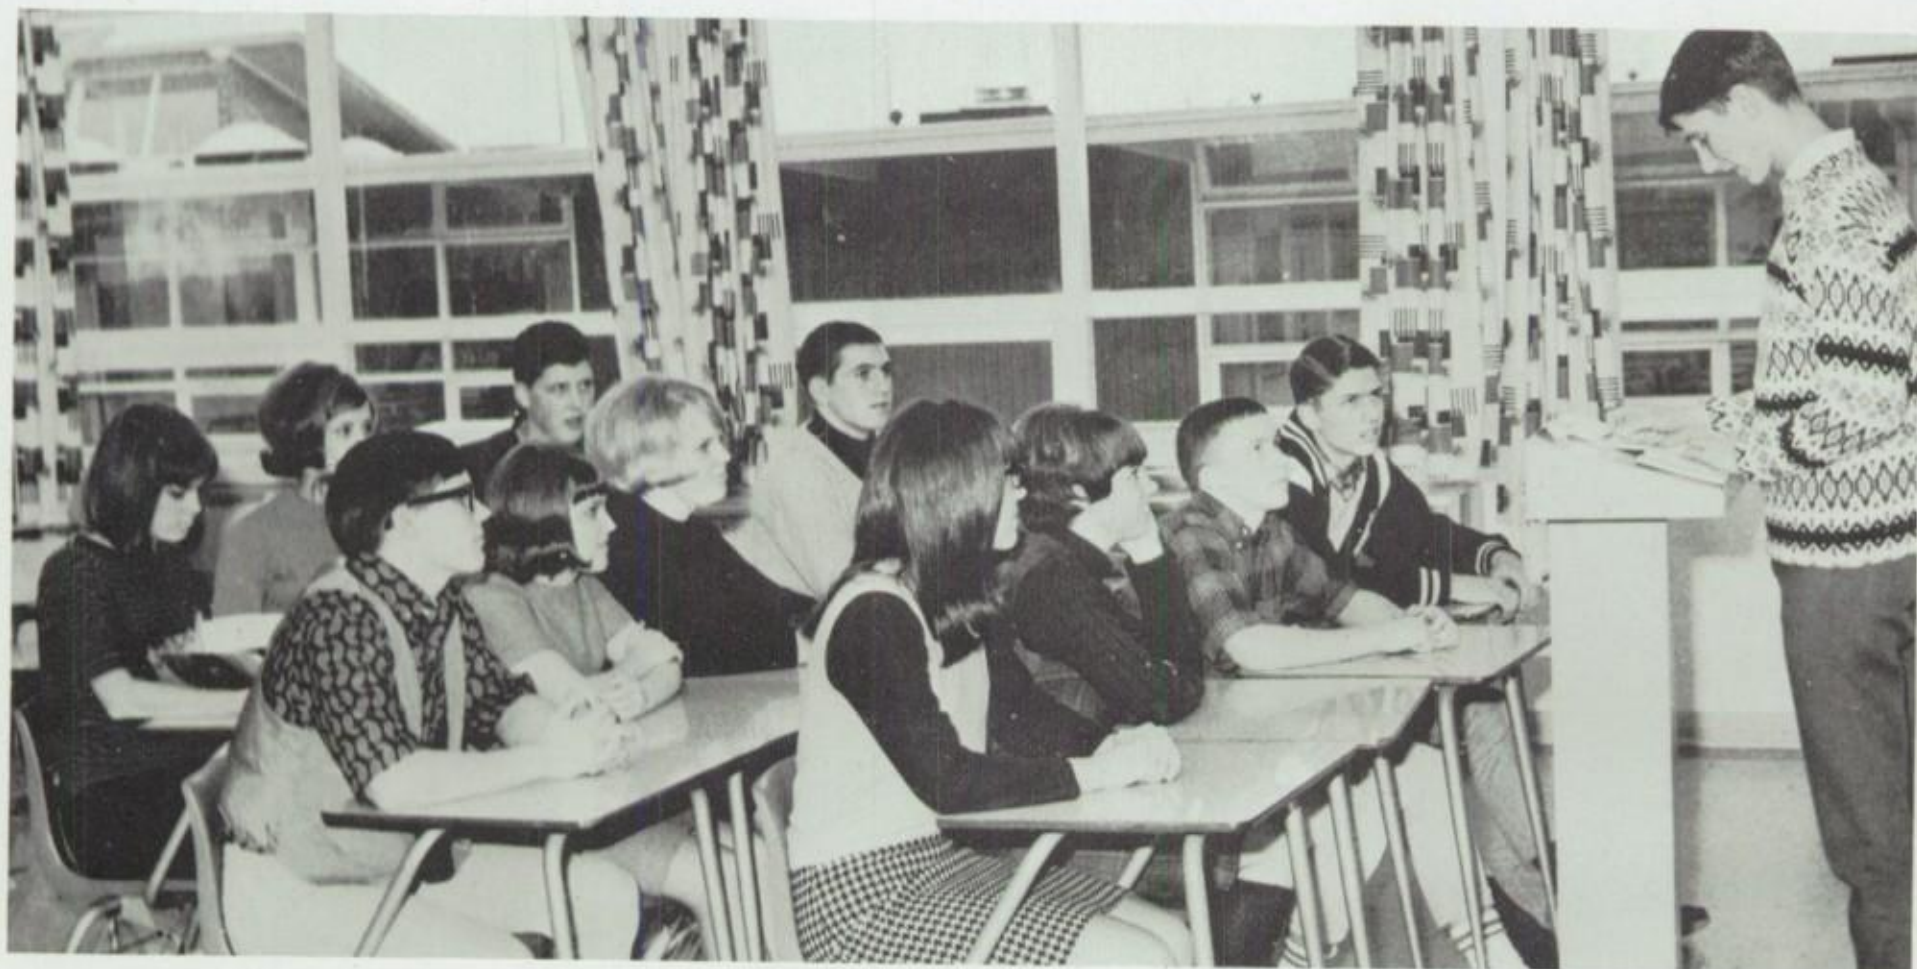

At the start of the year the sophomores had a chance to demonstrate their great enthusiasm with their whole-hearted participation in the world-clothing drive. They went on last winter to triumph by a surprisingly large margin in the ASB bottle drive.

Thanks in part to a capable group of student leaders and to the infectious spirit of pep shared by the entire class, the sophomores had virtually no trouble in adjusting to high school and experienced a very rewarding year.

JUNIORS

Following an explosive year as sophomores, the class of '68 entered for its second time with a more complacent, almost indifferent attitude by some towards school-sponsored activities and class-contests. They did, however, defeat the sophomores by a tie with the seniors in the World Clothing Drive. They also contributed money to the ASB bottle-drive and the March of Dimes.

As a money-raiser, several more ambitious members of the Junior class devoted a winter's day to washing cars at local service stations.

By the end of the year, the juniors were rested up and were looking forward to another more active and prosperous school year in 1968.

SENIORS MAKE HISTORY

As shy sophomores, the class of '67 entered North Thurston High School. Within a short time, the year offered enthusiasm and they were ready with school spirit. They yelled for points in assemblies and were usually found in masses at the games. They won the Goodwill Clothing Drive, adding a numeral to their megaphone points. In October, during Fire Prevention Week, the sophomores representatives reigned as queen. Various money making projects included bottle drives and car washes which proved fairly successful. On February 26, they sponsored their first dance entitled "Beap Hop."

The juniors were ready at the beginning of the year. Almost 100% donated one dollar per student to their class treasury. Other than the donation, they brought in paperback books for the soldiers in Vietnam. A unique money making project was apple picking which resulted in a large profit. In April, the juniors co-sponsored the first junior-senior ball in the history of N.T. entitled "Wine and Roses." On move up day the juniors reached their peak as they sat in the senior section. Many wonderful days of ups and downs lay ahead as they faced their mighty senior year.

As seniors, they were proud to lead the school in student government. Their enthusiasm grew as they won the woodpile drive at Homecoming. Participation at games lessened and their interests started to channel in different directions, and at the end of the year they ranked second in the megaphone contest. Choosing colleges and applying for scholarships kept the seniors busy during the winter months. They ranked higher in academics than the previous year and plaques were awarded to many worthy students. Soon they were choosing the May Dance theme, May Court, Hall of Fame and the school gift. On May 6, they co-sponsored the May Dance entitled "Tea House of the August Moon." Final days were approaching.

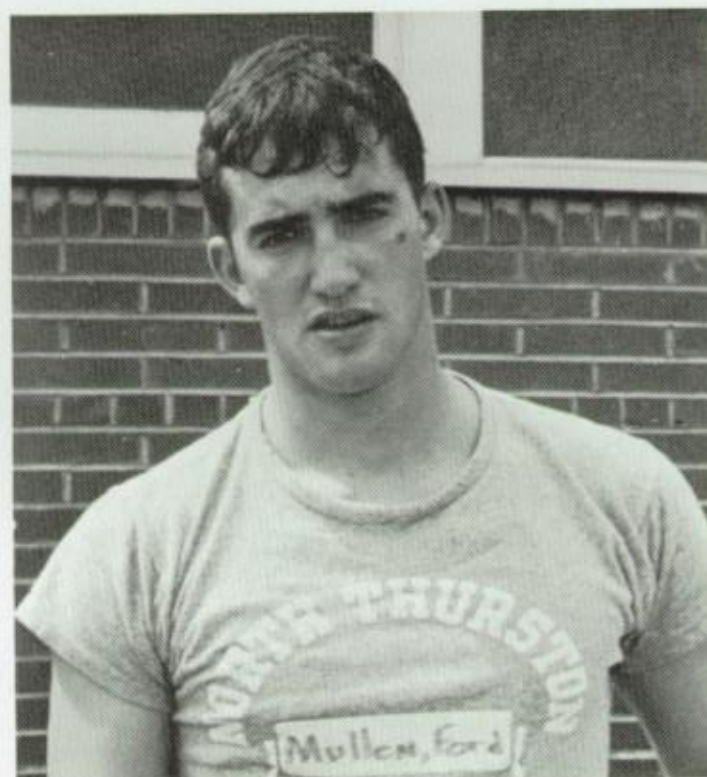

Graduation came. It was their turn to march to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance." After graduation, they boarded a train in Lacey and traveled to Vancouver, Washington for a whole night party at "The Key," a luxurious night club. Twelve years of learning lay behind them and a large world in front of them full of new opportunities and responsibilities. Yes, it was only yesterday that they had gained memories that would never fade . . .

On June 9th at 8:00 p.m. approximately 275 seniors marched down the two aisles of the North Thurston High School gym. Shining faces and bright smiles gleamed from the white and purple gowned graduates as the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance" rang into the microphone. Friends and relatives in the crowded gym stood and watched.

Through twelve years these students had worked hard to achieve the diploma, which would now be theirs. Through the sea of their education, they also learned about leadership, service, and values. Now they would enter a world which would challenge this education.

Many worthy students received presentations, awards, and scholarships. Those who did, earned these honors through observation, understanding, and complete dedication to the tasks before them.

Four very proud student leaders spoke on this launch into the world that was just ahead of the graduating class. Two were chosen by the class and the other two by the faculty. Speaking for the entire senior class they looked to the future and said good-bye to the past.

The senior class presented the school with a special gift to remember them by. This was a broadcasting booth for the stadium, which was greatly needed.

Now they were ready to launch into their separate voyages always looking back to their anchor at North Thurston High School.

As this is the first year commencement has been included in the Rambler, we on the staff would like to pay a special tribute to the seniors and wish them the best of luck always.

Through twelve years these students have worked diligently in school academics, and because of their high aptitudes won the recognition of "TOP TEN of '67." These students deserved this top honor and at graduation wore gold honor cords. Everyone at North Thurston was proud of the fact that they held the highest grade point averages of all previous years at North Thurston. Their intellect, bright observation and hard work are some of the factors that earned them this honor.

Another project sponsored by the North Thurston Future Farmers of America was the Miss March of Dimes contest. Five girls were nominated for this title during the month of February. At one of the Ram's home basketball games the crowd watched F.F.A. representative Paul Hays award one dozen red roses and the title, Miss March of Dimes, to Teri Oliver.

Mr. Price, North Thurston music director, was proud to send Miss Jan Jaussi and Miss Nancy Failor to a conference in Missoula, Montana, during spring vacation to attend the Northwest Music Conference. At the conference Jan and Nancy displayed their singing talent, and Nancy was chosen from ten girls to accompany the All Northwest Choir.

Again, as in years past, the North Thurston Chapter of Future Farmers of America chose a F.F.A. Sweetheart. This year from the three candidates nominated by the chapter, Miss Cindy Watts received the honor. Cindy was presented with one dozen red roses and a F.F.A. jacket at their annual "Harvest Ball."

The Fire and Safety Committee was responsible in selecting three girls; one to be crowned Fire Queen, and the other two as princesses. Miss Jeanette Stauffer reigned as queen and her court included Miss Judi Niles and Miss Diana Horton. The girls attended a parade in Tacoma, and a television program in representing the North Thurston Fire District.

Bonfire ignites spirit

A hall decorating contest started the 1966-67 North Thurston Homecoming festivities. During the Homecoming week the classes competed in a wood pile contest. This led to a pep rally and the burning of one of the piles before the game in which North Thurston took a decisive win over Enumclaw 19-13. "Autumn to May" set the theme for Saturday night's dance at which Miss Linda St. Clair was crowned as Homecoming Queen.

"Tea House of the August Moon," chosen as the theme for our traditional Junior-Senior May Dance held the sixth of May, provided oriental atmosphere in harmony with the formal setting. The decorations included a Japanese garden with two fish ponds containing live goldfish. The pathway over a small bridge within the garden lead into the beautifully decorated gymnasium where the actual dancing took place. As in years before, the senior class had previously elected a king and queen along with six senior princesses and escorts to reign as their May Court for the occasion. This year JoEllen Brandt and Ray Colombo were awarded the honor of serving as the royal pair. The coronation ceremony during the dance was held in the gymnasium at 9:00 p.m. and was open to spectators. The 1967 May Dance proved to be exceptional throughout its entire purpose in creating a memorable presentation for all those who attended.

The North Thurston High School athletics of the 1966-67 school year were honored at special dessert banquets sponsored by the Pep Club. These banquets gave distinction to the participants on three evenings during the year, following fall, winter, and spring sports. The athletics, accompanied by their parents, received their certificates, school letters, and a selected few received honorary awards, such as a trophy or plaque for their season's performance.

Ray Colombo, received this years Inspirational Award in Track. Ray, who has many talents in this sport is exceptional in the dashes, broad jump, and pole vault. He was also a great asset to this years athletic programs.

Mr. Inspirational of the baseball field was announced by Coach Fouts and team members as Jerry Henslin, who really got the team to move. This is proven by their good winning record and the honor they brought to NT.

Tennis, which is a rather unknown sport around NT has been brought around by the fine playing ability of Aubrey Frazier. Aubrey was named this year's team captain and did a great job for himself, the team, and the school.

A three year varsity letterman for North Thurston's baseball team received this years Captains Award. Ford Mullen served this position during the seasons games, as a strong playing third baseman for the team.

To be active in a club and to do a good job is a quality only few can fully accept. Miss Nancy Knauff was one such person. For her extremely hard work for this years Thespians she was named "Thespian of the Year." She was not only active as a performer in the clubs plays, but she also served as student director to the Fall production of "The Curious Savage."

Tom Bowman was named by art advisor, Mr. Murphy, as the artist of the year, Tom, who is well-known around North Thurston for his artistry work, received national recognition for his work as a junior. As a senior, Tom claimed many state honors for his wholehearted devotion to art.

Lloyd Warren, a senior received this years Math Award. In a state test that is given to all exceptionally good math students, Lloyd placed very well in competition with other mathematicians in the state.

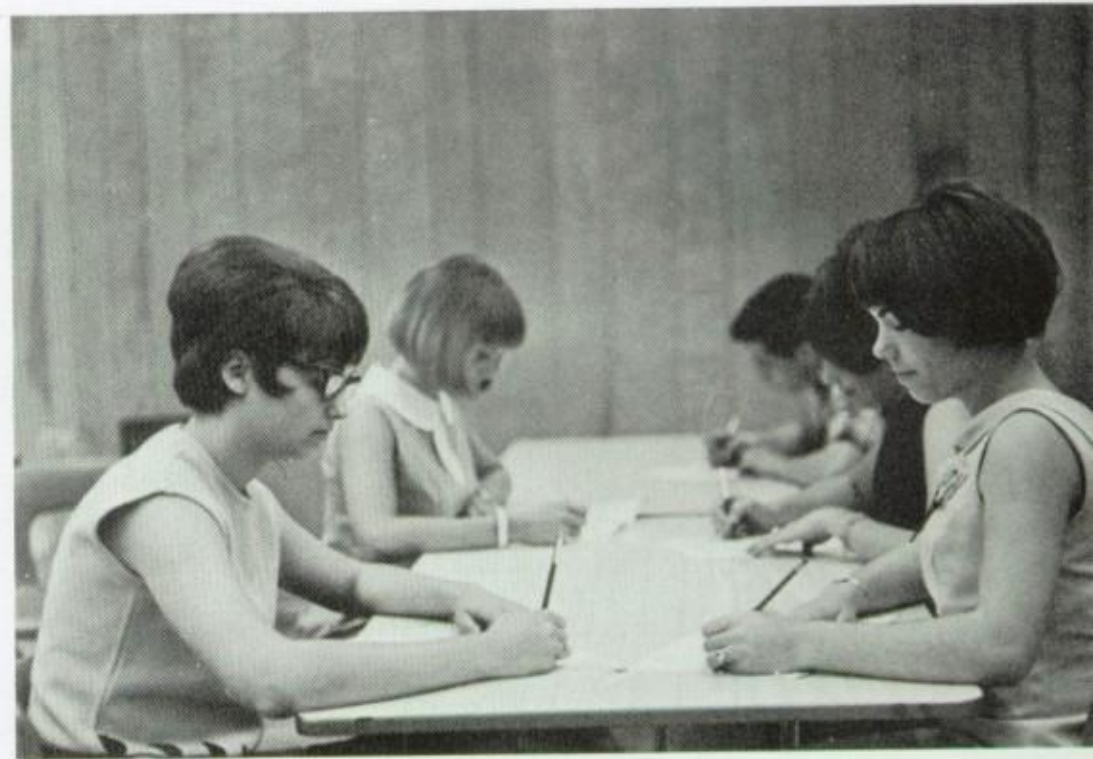

An active member of the North Thurston Science Club was Mr. Dick Huntamer. For his work in the field in which he participated, Dick received the Bausch and Lomb Award. Dick competed in local and regional science fairs and gained high recognition.

The Elks Scholarship Award recipients for the 1966 - 67 year, representing North Thurston were Lloyd Warren and Chris Ramsey. These two were chosen from other greater Olympia High Schools. Chris and Lloyd should be congratulated on their scholastic and leadership achievement.

When all the candidates for the 1967 - 68 Associated Student Body offices had given their final speeches before the final elections, it was announced that Teri Oliver would serve as North Thurston High School's Lakelair Princess. She was chosen by the faculty from five other finalist who were elected by the senior class.

Miss Cheryl Kelso and Miss Cindy Watts claimed high honors in this years National Merit Test. These girls placed high in the finishing standards and are to be congratulated for their fine award.

Girls of the Month

Each month North Thurston's Girls' League sponsors a special award of personal achievement to be given to the girl most deserving of this recognition. These selected Girls Of The Month are outstanding in their extra-curricular activities throughout the school, and above all, are representative of the "Girls' League Creed." At the meetings in which they were honored, each received a lovely corsage and during the Mother-Daughter tea at the end of the year, each was presented with a designated pin. From all of the Girls Of The Month, Miss Sandy Ross was elected as The Girl Of The Year. It was largely agreed upon that Sandy was worthy of this exclusive distinction.

A tradition every senior class follows is the election of well-known individuals to the Senior Hall of Fame. The voting by this year's senior class took place on the 4th and 5th of April, and the results were announced at an assembly on April 21st. These persons chosen are sure to be remembered for their unique traits.
